Commission Closes Files On Swindle

Report on Probe of Gillies' Deals To Be Withheld as "Confidential"

The Victoria Police Commission yesterday closed its file on a full-scale probe to trace a reported $250,000 handled by convicted swindler Clyde Gillies.

The investigation was touched off last May by W. A. Scott, one of Gillies' victims, who read a brief before the police commission that purported to link other Victorians with the alleged swindling ring.

Police Chief John Blackstock requested assistance from Attorney General Gordon Wismer who recently turned over a copy of a report made by the R.C.M.P. in conjunction with the local police department.

Mayor Percy George, Chief Blackstock and Commissioners Brent Murdoch and James Neely said at a special meeting yesterday that they had carefully read the full report.

A brief was then prepared of the full report and a motion passed to release it to the press.

"This is the only one I would care to put my signature to," Mayor George said. "I am satisfied with the full report. I have no secrets."

The mayor said the police commission can go no farther and the case is closed "as far as we are concerned."

The carefully worded brief reads in part: "Portions of the report are of a confidential nature and consequently cannot be made public."

"On reading the report it discloses that an extensive investigation was made, and its purpose was, firstly, fact finding, in order to discover whether any assets remained from Gillies' fraudulent operations . . . and secondly whether any undisclosed persons were criminally involved with Gillies."

Loans Never Paid Back

"The investigational report contains 35 closely-typed pages and 46 pages of exhibits; some 30 persons were interviewed in Victoria, Vancouver and as far east as Toronto, and in a vast majority of cases the investigators found those interviewed most cooperative and willing to advance such information as was within their knowledge. However the results of these interviews are confidential."

"Both in Victoria and Vancouver, Gillies' method of operation was to secure a trusting victim and ingratiate himself to the point where the victim would entrust him with funds for some kind of investment which mostly took the form of loans to Gillies which he promised to repay with a bonus, and this continued until the victim's funds were exhausted."

"In March, 1949, our local police department was looking for Gillies and believed he had gone to Vancouver, and thereupon the chief of police in Victoria wrote a short case history of this man to the chief in Vancouver; however, Gillies did not move to Vancouver until 1950."

The report went on to say that Gillies was living "high" and was keeping, in addition to his family, other persons in "separate establishments, entertained liberally in night clubs, and generally spending freely."

"The Vancouver police department thinks Gillies has no assets, although his Vancouver operations involved an aggregate sum of $18,000 in about 15 months. Gillies admitted that over the years his total dealings would probably aggregate a quarter of a million dollars," the report said.

Gillies Without Assets

The three-page brief presented over the signature of the police commission continued:

"The report indicates that very few of his victims got any of their funds or assets back, but by a system of borrowing from Peter to pay Paul some victims were more fortunate than others and therefore the aggregate losses would not reach such a large sum as he would like one to believe."

"While we cannot go into as much detail as is contained in the report, on account of its confidential nature, the investigators say: 'The results to date would not indicate that Gillies has any assets at the present time'; and they further say: 'We regret that this report is so inconclusive, but no doubt appreciation of the difficulties of the task will be taken, considering the time element, death of one of the principal figures, lack of records and the type of victims involved.'"

"They further suggest that some valuable information might be disclosed by a search of titles to properties owned by one of the victims in Alberta and likewise in Victoria."

"There was no indication in the report that this search was carried out in this city."

"The report shows that the investigation was thoroughly done with the material at hand and while it goes back some 17 to 18 years it is quite understandable that persons and documents involved are not now available."

City's Duty Carried Out

"Gillies was a long-time resident of this city, and most of his victims have also resided here, and it is suggested that the local authorities should probe this matter to its utmost depths."

"This suggestion, however, is not feasible by reason of the fact that the city has not got the facilities that are needed to do so, nor is it the city's duty to go that far."

"Fraud being an indictable offence, the city took steps to apprehend this accused, carried his trial to completion, when his case became the full responsibility of the province from that time on, and the city had done its duty to the full, inasmuch as the accused was sentenced by the Assize Court to serve seven years."

"This commission regards the report as dealing fully with the complaints made, and feels that it has done all within its power in the circumstances, and now declares the matter closed insofar as the city is concerned."

The commission voted in favor of forwarding a brief on the report to Mr. Scott, who said last night he had "no comment" until he had a chance to read the document.

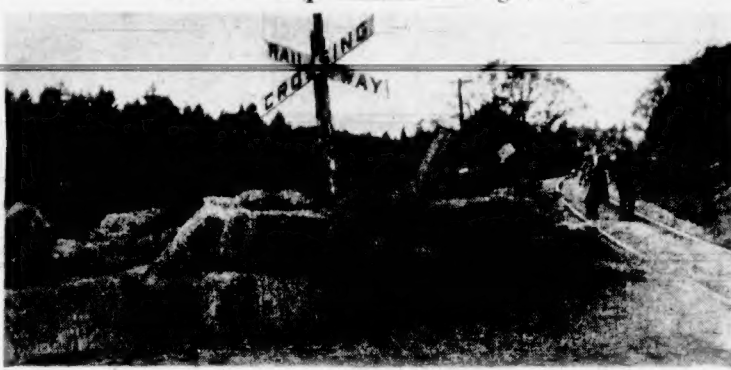

Small Operators Ask Forest System Change

VANCOUVER, Nov. 5 (CP).—The association plans to submit a brief to the B.C. Legislature at the next main session proposing alternatives. The ideal alternative, in view of the association, is for the provincial government to manage the timber resources with a big expansion of the forest branch of the department of mines and resources.

"The whole situation and the whole attitude of the provincial government must be revised very soon in order to save some free enterprise in this big industry," Boyd said.

"Licenses are simply not available at present to small operators," he said.

Driver Escapes in Crossing Crash

Hay was scattered far and wide yesterday afternoon when a truck, driven by Kartar Singh, 830 Queens, was in collision with a train. Saanich Police are shown examining the accident scene. An unidentified man was in the truck with Kartar, but left before the police arrived. There was no one hurt.

All that remained of the truck that was in collision with a train at three o'clock yesterday afternoon on Burnside near Admirals was left buried in the load of hay that it was carrying. The front wheels were carried about 200 feet from the accident. Spectators, who arrived almost as soon as the accident happened are shown inspecting the wreckage. (Colonist photos by Bud Kinsman.)

Imperial Leads Rush On Peace River's Oil

By T. A. MYERS
Imperial Oil, the unchallenged leader in the Canadian oil field, has moved in on the Peace River area in a big way.

Thursday's strike at Fort St. John in northeastern B.C. started a stampede for oil exploration permits.

Imperial so far heads the list of applicants at the provincial government's petroleum and natural gas control board offices.

Saturday the company applied for permits covering 2,000,000 acres in the Peace River district.

Before the Pacific Petroleum Fort St. John strike, only 12,400,000 acres of land throughout B.C. were covered by 202 exploration permits, drilling licenses and leases.

Later yesterday the total had risen to 16,750,000 acres. And the end is nowhere in sight.

J. D. Lineham, assistant petroleum controller, said yesterday he fully expects to see the whole Peace River district covered by permits.

There is still approximately 3,000,000 acres of vacant land in the huge block, which covers the whole northeast corner of the province.

The rush for Peace River permits started Thursday, when the first news of the Fort St. John strike leaked out. Two applications were made for permits covering 100,000 acres.

Friday, 18 applicants staked their claims for 1,000,000 acres. During the short Saturday workday, the controller's office took 18 applications for 2,500,000 acres. Yesterday there were 14 applications for 750,000 acres.

A permit may cover anything from 10,000 to 250,000 acres. There

Reds Seize Key Hill In Korea

U.S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Nov. 6 (Tuesday) (AP).—Chinese Communists supported by intense mortar fire seized a third key hill early to day on the western front.

The Reds won the peak after a four-hour assault north of Yonchon.

Two battalions of Communists fought grimly to hold two other peaks west of Yonchon seized Sunday in a savage eight-hour battle. They threw the fire of tanks massed behind the line at Allied troops fighting on the slopes of the twin peaks, which are one mile apart.

The counter-attacking Allied troops, supported by planes, tanks and artillery, fought within 500 yards of the peaks of the two peaks.

The Reds won another hill after a flashing rocket barrage but U.N. forces counter-attacked and regained it.

The wave of Chinese assaults which began Sunday had spread to the sector west of Churyon, a flaming front 15 miles long.

All along the front from the Iron Triangle sector to the east coast the Reds mounted probing assaults against almost every Allied division in the line.

He succeeds S. G. Smith of MacMillan & Bloedel Ltd., Vancouver.

Elected vice president was Clyde Corman of the Weyerhaeuser Timber Co., Longview, Wash. Returned as treasurer was L. H. Mills.

The 1952 convention will be held in California.

Bank Assesses Break-In Loot

ST. JEROME, Que., Nov. 5 (CP).—Provincial Bank officials today took on the difficult task of assessing the loot, estimated in the vicinity of $200,000, taken from some 50 safety deposit boxes riddled in their branch here during the week end.

St. Jerome is about 25 miles north of Montreal.

First reports indicated that the loss may exceed $200,000. But Gaston Levesque, general superintendent of the bank in Montreal, said this might be an exaggerated figure.

However, a spokesman for the provincial police said: "We may hit this figure when everything is tallied, if that is possible."

The break-in was discovered by Manager Leopold Talva when the bank opened for business today.

Meanwhile, armed British patrols cruised through the St. Jerome area following a day of fresh terrorism.

The left-wing Cairo weekly Al-Ghazal said a British tank with four men aboard "disappeared" Sunday in the canal area, but a British army spokesman said he had no report of any such incident.

The Cairo paper said the tank and its crew "probably were captured by liberation forces."

Other Cairo newspapers carried headlines saying Egypt's "liberation battalions" have gone into action in the canal zone.

One of them, the pro-government Al-Balagh, printed what it said was an unofficial report from one of its correspondents that an Egyptian driver of a

Move Called "Vital Condition" For Co-operation With West

CAIRO, Nov. 5 (CP).—A top spokesman for the seven-country Arab League tonight called for British evacuation of Egypt as a "vital condition" for Middle East co-operation with the western powers.

Abdel Rahman Arzani Pasha, secretary-general of the Arab League, said at a press conference on the eve of his departure for Paris where he will be an observer at United Nations meetings.

"It is essential that the British first evacuate Egypt. Then discussions may be entered in a friendly spirit toward working out some Middle East defense agreement."

Azzam Pasha said all the Arab states will follow Egypt in the rejection of recent four-power proposals to set up a joint Middle East military command.

However, the other six members of the Arab League, Syria, Lebanon, Iraq, Saudi Arabia, Yemen and Jordan, are reported not in complete agreement with Egypt on this issue.

The Arab foreign ministers are scheduled to meet in Paris this month to determine a unified Arab policy on the western proposals.

Meanwhile, armed British patrols cruised through the Suez Canal zone following a day of fresh terrorism.

The left-wing Cairo weekly Al-Ghazal said a British tank with four men aboard "disappeared" Sunday in the canal area, but a British army spokesman said he had no report of any such incident.

The Cairo paper said the tank and its crew "probably were captured by liberation forces."

Other Cairo newspapers carried headlines saying Egypt's "liberation battalions" have gone into action in the canal zone.

One of them, the pro-government Al-Balagh, printed what it said was an unofficial report from one of its correspondents that an Egyptian driver of a truck carrying 20 British tommy guns intentionally had driven the vehicle into a lake near the canal. The paper's headline asked "were all drowned?"

A call for a "war of liberation" against Britain by Field Marshal Aous El Masri Pasha, retired commander-in-chief of the Egyptian army, preceded the latest outbreak.

Ed Street, 74, of Parksville, was killed last night when he was in collision with a lumber truck while he was cycling on French Creek Road. The truck, driven by William Barker, Errington, came out of a side road.

Seriously injured Saturday night when he was pinned under a light pick-up truck was Alex Prada, 253 Irwin Street, Nanaimo.

Prada is believed to have suffered a broken pelvis, cuts and abrasions. He was rushed to the Nanaimo Hospital in the Qualicum-Parksville ambulance that just happened to be in the area at the time.

Four cars were involved in crashes on the Island Highway near French Creek, but no one was injured.

Mr. Bonner recently sought a review of the decision of the Board of Transport Commissioners allowing an increase of telegraph rates. His appeal was turned down "because it wasn't couched in proper form."

The petition sought to have Vancouver Island excluded from the telegraph rate increase on the grounds that the subsidy received by the railway in the form of land grants and mineral rights should take care of any increase in cost.

Mr. Bonner's latest telegram to the minister of transport reads: "As it doesn't seem possible to adjust this matter to the satisfaction of the people of Vancouver Island with regard to what they consider to be their rights under the E. & N. charter and the treaty rights of Confederation, we now humbly petition that a commission be appointed to make a full investigation into the terms under which the E. & N. operates and administers the lease of the E. & N. Two Killed, One Injured

Two people were killed, one seriously injured and several hundred dollars damage done to four cars in the Alberni-Parksville area, in a rash of week-end accidents.

Cold Death Toll In U.S. Now 129

CHICAGO, Nov. 5 (AP).—Acute cold kept its harsh grip on the United States today from the northern Rockies to the Atlantic.

At least 129 deaths were counted as the result of the untimely blast of full winter weather which set new low temperature marks by the scores for early November.

Approximately three-fourths of the deaths were the result of traffic accidents on slippery highways.

The cold siege saw an unofficial temperature recording of 16 degrees below zero today at Detroit Lake, Minn., and a number of official sub-zero marks in the Dakotas and Iowa.

TV Expert Offers Gift To TB Ward

Santa Claus has found a helper. Last week The Colonist ran a story telling of the craftsman-ship of patients in the T.B. Pavilion of the Royal Jubilee Hospital. Story behind the story was that the patients were making decorative items as they could in order to buy a community television set for the sun-room for Christmas.

J. J. Sims, Deep Cove, read the article and told The Colonist yesterday that he will be happy to donate the antennae needed for the set.

Mr. Sims, who builds original antennae and who was a radar expert during the war, says the usual set requires only one antenna. However, for the hospital, he recommends a double antennae and will donate the full equipment. Cost of double antennae is about $100.

All Pavilion patients will have to do is to phone Mr. Sims when the TV set is purchased.

Asked about the TV business, Mr. Sims said it had troubled this year. He added that Seattle stations were in the process of doubling their power and that reception would improve rapidly once the work was completed.

Cuts Tooth Decay

No Fluoride for Water Until Experiments End

A scheme to prevent tooth decay may be tried in Victoria but not for at least four years.

The proposal is to add a chemical called sodium fluoride to the city's water supply.

First, however, experiments which have been going on in Brantford, Ont., for the past six years must be completed. There is another four years to go in the National Research Council-sponsored program.

Dr. R. H. McDougall, B.C. representative on the commission of dental research of the National Research Council, is following the Ontario experiment with great interest.

"It is encouraging, but in elementary stages as far as application is concerned," he said yesterday.

Scientists in Brantford have been busy assembling data on a group of picked children, born during the six-year period.

Canadian Advance Force Boards Ship for Europe

QUEBEC, Nov. 5 (CP).—Canada today sent on their way to Western Europe 500 specialists for the main body of the 5,500-man force trained for General Eisenhower's armies-of-defense.

The troops from the 27th Canadian Brigade sailed from historic Wolfe's Cove aboard the 13,500-ton Canbera, while R.C.A.F. Mustangs, joining in farewell ceremonies, roared low over the water.

Claims French Singled Out

OTTAWA, Nov. 5 (CP).—P. E. Gagnon, independent member for the Quebec constituency of Chateaufort, charged tonight in the Commons that French-Canadian troops in Korea are being singled out to serve in the most exposed areas and to do the most tedious chores.

Jean Lesage (L. Montmagny-Leslie), parliamentary assistant to External Affairs Minister Pearson, immediately challenged Mr. Gagnon to prove his statement, because it might have "exceedingly grave international consequences," or withdraw it.

Mr. Gagnon said that he would stand by his statement. It was based on information given him by men returning from Korea.

Clash Threatens In Fishing Parley

TOKYO, Nov. 5 (Reuters).—United States and Japanese fishing interests headed for a clash here today when the U.S. officially warned "newcomers" off fishing grounds already being used by other nations in the North Pacific.

William C. Herrington, U.S. delegate at the North Pacific fisheries negotiations, which opened today between Canada, the U.S. and Japan, said it was time for a variation of the principle of complete freedom of the high seas.

He said the U.S., Canada and Japan should establish a North Pacific commission for co-operation in fishing.

SHREWSBURY, Eng., Nov. 4 (AP).—Amateur gardener H. R. J. Ward carried off first prize at a flower show here for the next best thing to gilding the lily.

He dyed the blooms of his pure white chrysanthemums a breath-taking shell-pink.

"This method of color is not approved," the judges said, but as there was no rule against it, they gave him the prize.

"How I dyed them is a secret," said Ward.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 5 (AP).—Modesty sent Walter F. Logan, 49, to the hospital Sunday.

He awoke to find his house alive and rushed to safety outside.

Suddenly he realized that he was standing there without his pants, so he dashed back into the flaming house.

He came out, with pants, but also with burns on the shoulder, arm and hand.

FORT FRANCES, Ont., Nov. 5 (CP).—A group of hunters today shot a large buck deer, but lost it to the farmer who owned the land the animal was standing on.

When the buck fell the farmer ran out and immediately claimed possession. His claim was backed up by a game warden.

Treasure Schooner Wrecked

MILFORD-ON-SEA, Eng., Nov. 5 (AP).—There's hope set for the projected expedition to find the tabbed treasure of pirate Captain Kidd.

An expedition by a crew of Canadians and Britons to find the treasure, reputed to have been buried more than 250 years in an island off St. John's, set out from Gosport last Thursday in the two-masted schooner Lamorna.

But the Lamorna and her treasure hunters never got out of the English Channel. A storm broke both her masts.

The treasure hunters were removed from the distressed ship by lifeboat and she finally was washed ashore near here Sunday.

Canada One of 20 Nations Rejecting Soviet Demand

PARIS, Nov. 5 (AP).—The fifth United Nations General Assembly rejected at its final session today, a Russian demand that the question of giving China's seat to the Communists be given priority in the sixth assembly, opening tomorrow.

The vote was 11 for, 29 against and 11 abstentions.

Russia's Jakob Malik threw the explosive question of Chinese representation into what diplomats had hoped would be a non-controversial, ceremonial wind-up of the fifth session.

He angrily declared "it is time to put an end to this disgraceful attitude toward the Chinese people."

T. F. Tsiang, Nationalist Chinese delegate, denounced the Russian proposal as calculated to "deceive peace."

He said the regime Malik proposed to admit has been denounced by the assembly as an aggressor in Korea.

Both Britain and France abstained on the vote. Britain's Sir Gladwyn Jebb said he abstained because the vote was the question would come up again tomorrow, when the sixth Assembly convenes.

"The fact that the King has been gaining steadily in strength," he told a reporter, "means that we can look forward to an indefinite period of reasonably good health now."

Lake Winnipeg Fishermen Rescued

WINNIPEG, Nov. 5 (CP).—Five fishermen who were stranded in their boats by an early freeze-up on Lake Winnipeg have been rescued by parties that dared flimsy ice to reach them.

At Matheson Island, in the north end of the lake, two men, whose craft disappeared last Thursday, were brought ashore in light boats which broke through thin ice to reach the vessel. The men, Capt. Paul Paulson, 40, and Elmer Briem, 20, were unharmed.

Word of the rescue was flashed today to the boat's owner at Riverton, Man., by radio.

At Traverse Bay, three fishermen who had been stranded for days were brought ashore by three men who dragged and coasted a canoe through the ice to the side of the fishing craft.

Rescued were Clifford Joseph, 26; Jarvis Gorman, 19; and Samuel Thomas, 17, all of Victoria Beach, Man.

Canada's Air Guard

HON. C. D. HOWE'S announcement as to Canada's air defenses in the north, while made abroad, will be of considerable interest to Canadians everywhere. If, as Mr. Howe indicates, this country is intent upon putting through a chain of air stations at or near the Arctic Circle, these, coupled with an interlocking radar screen, will be of first rate importance in the general defense scheme of this continent. The Minister of Production, while naturally not too specific about location and details, nevertheless said more about the subject than had yet been vouchsafed in official circles at Ottawa. The thought and the tone were encouraging, and the established fact will be even more so when it is accomplished.

There was encouragement, too, in what Mr. Howe had to say about Canadair Ltd., in that, after delays and initial starts, Canada is now manufacturing certain types of aircraft on a progressive scale. These include jet-fighters and trainers, and something still more important—the ability to stockpile in impressive numbers. With it all, however, there is still a long way to go before Canada can feel either safe or happy with regard to its own responsibilities for a state of preparedness in a tense world.

What will be pleasing about Mr. Howe's statement is not so much the relatively little that has as yet been done, but the promise that air defenses are definitely under scrutiny and are being tightened up. For a young country of relatively limited means, Canada's contribution in the air may never be very large by comparison with what other nations have done and can do, but there is no reason why the quality of that effort need be second to any other. This nation has the men, the brains and the integrity to make a most significant contribution to our times.

Nation Without a Flag

AN AMERICAN writer, reporting on Princess Elizabeth's visit to Washington, fell into unfortunate but wholly understandable error in the matter of the flags displayed for the occasion. Describing the banquet which Princess Elizabeth gave for President Truman, he referred to the fact that it was at the Canadian, not the British, embassy, and added that "it was the Canadian, not the British, flag which fluttered behind her."

The unhappy truth of the matter, of course, is that it was not a Canadian flag at all, because there is no such thing. It was the red ensign, an honorable flag with a background of the finest tradition, but no more Canada's property than that of any ship of the British merchant marine. The red ensign does duty as the flag of Canada because this nation, the senior partner in the British Commonwealth, has no distinctive emblem of its own, nothing to signify the independence of which it is so proud. Without disrespect to the red ensign, its display on Canadian soil can only be described as a makeshift.

It was an occasion of great pleasure to the people of this country when the Princess Presumptive visited Washington officially as a Canadian Princess, with all arrangements made by the Canadian rather than the British embassy. That sponsorship must have helped to impress upon the people of the United States the position which this Dominion occupies in the Commonwealth. It is much to be regretted, however, that at her meeting with the President of the United States the Canadian flag could not stand in front of a Canadian flag. Reporters in Washington may have been unconscious of the paradox, and pardonably so, but the Princess herself must have been aware of it, both there and during her tour of the Dominion.

Too Stringent a Remedy

THE RETURN of the annual tax sales of municipal tax-default properties revives once more the basic question as to whether or not the present law under which these properties are escheated is not much too drastic and stringent for the needs of the case. It is one thing for municipal treasuries to be given a lien on property which is in arrears of taxes beyond the warning period, and another to be permitted to take the whole thing lock, stock and barrel for the relatively small equity which the corporation has in the property at that time. What is being argued here is the principle of the matter, and not any individual case. The Municipal Act has carried these rights for a long time but where-in-truth is the equity of the case? Should an owner be closed out in this summary fashion, while 90 per cent of the real equity is still his own?

It has long been obvious that municipalities need some powers by way of tax lien or otherwise, else they would not be able to collect their revenues at all. Was it ever intended by the legislature, however, that they could sequester 100 per cent of property values on a claim amounting to 10 per cent, if that? That seems far too stringent a remedy. The present-day redemption features do not alter the case: a tax default owner, who presumably could not find the tax arrears in the first place, is given the option of finding that sum, plus whatever else the buyer paid at the tax sale, plus interest at 6 per cent for the term involved. In short, this is not a wide redemption right nor a very practical one. Without weakening the control of a municipality over tax collections, a more equitable scheme could—and perhaps should—be found for the future.

WANT TELEVISION SET

Sir.—The patients at the Pavilion of the Jubilee Hospital were naturally very pleased to see the story in Saturday's paper describing our craft work and our efforts to obtain a TV set out of the profits from this work. Omitted, however, was mention of the instigator of the project, Jerry Gosley, whose "Smile Show" is well known in the city, first presented the idea to us a few weeks ago while putting on his lively entertainment here. It is largely through Mr. Gosley's efforts that we are now making progress towards getting the television set.

DRIVING TESTS

Sir.—In connection with this subject, which the recent correspondence reveals has caused some perturbation in the minds of many car owners who, like myself, have seen more than three score years, I would like to know if statistics have been published by any traffic department showing which of the following classes are responsible for the most traffic accidents:

The driver under the influence of liquor; the young man to whom speed is the thing; the commercial driver, who from my own observation, continually exceeds speed limits, cuts corners, travels around blind corners with speed, and to whom time is more important than safety; or the elderly driver, who knows his limitations, who gives the proper signals, and who mostly drives sedately and intelligently.

B.C. AND ALBERTA

Sir.—Alberta's "happy financial state" does not derive from its oil. This is a timeworn political catchphrase that has no foundation in fact. Last year, I am told, the government revenue from oil in Alberta was about $35,000,000.

Compare this with the revenue B.C. derived from its lumber alone, $100,000,000, no less. Add to this her revenue from fisheries, mines, etc., and you will see that B.C.'s revenue outstrips Alberta's oil by several hundred millions.

But is B.C. prosperous like Alberta? Not on your life it isn't. Here we are suffering the lowest standard of living in our history. Here we can only have a good meat meal one day a week, or eat horsemeat. Milk is scarce and costly. We can't afford cotton sheets any more. And we are taxed beyond the limit of economic reason.

B.C.'s revenue from the 3% sales tax alone came to $32,500,000, yet Mr. Anscomb has to borrow another $35,000,000 and will tax us accordingly. We were told that the B.C. Police were disbanded to save the province money. This saving has produced nothing but more taxes.

Alberta began reducing taxes years ago, before oil came into its own. So why sneer at those who want the same kind of government in B.C.?

Because I am addicted to salmon, am I inconsistent and disloyal if I don't go on eating it when it is potted with decay?

A SONG AND AN EGG

Sir.—I am not in the habit of writing to the papers, but the following hit me like a ton of bricks and hasten to get it off my chest.

I have listened to the nightingale, thrush, lark, cuckoo and other song birds, singing in their native haunts. I have also listened to the children of Nanaimo proudly giving forth with song of praise and welcome to their Princess and Prince. Both children and birds with their songs, brought a great thrill, but never have I been so mightily affected with an incident of yesterday, when the first pullet of my young flock arranged for the debut of an oval object which will ultimately lie alongside a rasher of bacon.

The thought of such a dish has taken me from my subject, so to return: As my lonely pullet stepped from the nest she, a little perplexed, glanced backward and then burst forth into a veritable song of victory.

The songs of the wild birds were wonderful, those of the Nanaimo children made me proud, but never have I been so thrilled as when my New Hampshire pullet so loudly announced the arrival of her contribution to my high cost of living.

Upon leaving the henhouse, she walked among her startled friends, picking up leaves and tossing them over her back—"a march of successful achievement, if ever there was one."

Thinking Aloud

"...of shoes—and ships—and sailing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

I seem to have upset some people last Tuesday. It's not surprising, I felt a trifle upset myself.

You will remember, maybe, that I was with the Ottawa John who's making it awkward to get a passport to go on holiday to, say, Great Britain. My remarks struck the immigration folk as well as a bit thick, let us say.

They also, I'm told, startled some dear old ladies whom I wouldn't alarm for all the passports in Canada. One seemed to think she'd be deported, whereas my complaint was not that anyone might be put out of the country but that it seems as though for a lot of people it's going to be hard to get out.

Anyway, I've been investigating the matter further.

The requirements I listed as necessary are as stated. They're what a passport officer in Ottawa suddenly advised a local travel agency as needful henceforth—proof of legal entry, be this two or thirty-two years ago; either by landing card or date and name of ship and port, or of guardian if you were carried ashore as a baby.

I still think these requirements, for many people, are absurd.

Incidentally, this change in passport regulations has been sort of sneaked in. It wasn't publicly announced, nor has any reason been given for it.

I gather, though, that it's part of a tightening-up process. You might even say a screening. The thesis that it's better that a guilty person should go undetected rather than that a lot of innocent people should be badgered doesn't hold, at least not now, with the passport bureau.

As I see it, some passports, maybe, have been given out a bit too easily. This as you know is a pretty troubled world and there are fishy characters moving around these days. Anyway, I believe that in recent times some individuals getting passports were found to be, indubitably, illegal entrants in the first place.

So, for the sake of a few miscreants, thousands of bona fide citizens have to dot every i and cross every t, to prove their p's and q's, which doesn't satisfy me at all.

Unless officialdom isn't so rigid as it appears.

The advice from Ottawa I've mentioned sets out the information you must supply if you want a passport. It says nothing about precisely what evidence will be accepted if you can't provide what's wanted, and no one here seems able to tell me. Since omissions are no guide to anything it was a fair deduction that a prospective traveler would thereupon be hamstrung.

However, I'm assured by the senior immigration official here that if you didn't smuggle yourself into Canada you needn't worry too much. You'll get your passport. It will take longer, but somehow they'll get around your lack of landing card or the impossible memory test.

Maybe an affidavit, or something, will do the trick. I hope so.

But what beats me is why changes in regulations affecting the public are not made public, and not explained. Just as though public business was the private privilege of government departments, which it most decidedly is not.

Well, that's that. After today the image you see at the top of this column will be absent for a brief while, its owner having gone on holiday. He's hoping, naturally, that you'll miss him.

Gerald Waring

Reports From Ottawa

FOR 15 years John G. Diefenbaker has been preaching in parliament and out the need for a more adequate definition of the basic individual rights of Canadians than is contained in our constitution and laws.

Five years ago he presented parliament with a proposed bill of rights as an amendment to the Citizenship Act. It listed the most elementary rights: freedom of religion, speech, and peaceful assembly; plus a guarantee against usurpation of parliament's right to suspend habeas corpus, and a guarantee that no one should be required to testify before any tribunal or commission without legal counsel.

The government refused to accept Diefenbaker's amendment on the grounds that it was unnecessary, and would distinguish between natural born and naturalized Canadians—since the Citizenship Act applies only to the latter.

In 1947 Diefenbaker sponsored a private member's resolution calling for passage of a bill of rights, but parliament never got around to dealing with it. He took similar action two years later, and every year since then has had a bill of rights resolution before parliament.

There's such a resolution on the House of Commons' order paper right now, under Diefenbaker's name. Indeed, there are two, for David Croil (Liberal, Toronto-Spadina), introduced a similar resolution there. For although Diefenbaker has taken the lead in advocating a bill of rights, a number of Liberal and C.C.F. M.P.'s have been active supporters of the idea.

One of the foremost among them has been Senator Arthur W. Roebuck (Liberal, Toronto-Trinity), who headed a Senate committee which conducted an exhaustive inquiry into the status of individual rights and freedoms in Canada. The Roebuck committee recommended last year that the British North America Act be amended to include a bill of rights.

Despite continued agitation in favor of this proposal, the government has taken no action. It is not unsympathetic, but some of its Liberal supporters are, so it would rather avoid the issue.

Indeed, it is doubtful if all the M.P.'s of Diefenbaker's own Progressive Conservative Party are behind the brilliant Saskatchewan lawyer in his advocacy of a guarantee of fundamental rights. However, the C.C.F. supports him to a man on this subject, for a national bill of rights has been a C.C.F. objective since the Regina manifesto was promulgated nearly 20 years ago.

Since the passage of the Citizenship Act in 1946, Diefenbaker has enlarged the list of rights which he believes should be safeguarded by enshrinement in the constitution. They are:

Freedom of religion, speech, assembly, and the press and radio; freedom from unreasonable state interference with an individual's person, home, reputation, activities and property; freedom from arbitrary arrest; and in particular a guarantee that habeas corpus shall not be suspended except by parliament; and guarantees of the rights of trial without undue delay, of representation by counsel, and equality before the law.

Parliament is unlikely to discuss the subject before this short session adjourns about December 10. However, John Diefenbaker's resolution will be back on the order paper when parliament meets again early in 1952. By keeping it there, he hopes that eventually pressure for action will become so great that the government will be forced to accept a Canadian bill of rights.

Wrong Label

(From The Toronto Telegram)

UNIVERSAL pensions for all over 70 without a means test were, it was originally announced, to be on a contributory basis. The plan unveiled by Mr. Abbott carries the implication that any similarity between the government's proposals and a contributory basis plan is purely coincidental.

True it will have to be paid for, to the tune of from $240,000,000 to $336,000,000 a year, but no one will have any certainty how much he is paying for his pension as the funds from which it will be paid will be accumulated from an increase in the income tax, an increase in the corporation tax, and a slice off the sales tax, which is to be maintained at its present figure. Use of the sales tax for this purpose is particularly obnoxious because it implies permanent retention of an excessively high tax with its inequitable pressure upon people who can ill afford it.

Two ministerial contributions to the subject indicate how far the original contributory idea has been lost to sight. Health Minister Martin has hailed the plan as "frank recognition of the cost of old age security as a charge upon the nation's current production." And to this Mr. Abbott has added, "The cost is heavy. There is no magic in government finance. A dollar paid out to one person must first of all be taken away from another." What the new plan does is prevent the other fellow knowing just when or how the dollar is taken away.

Decadence is noted in the criminal class. A California burglar was routed recently by a chihuahua.

When his health began to fail, an easterner decided to go west to the wide open spaces. In a small town in Arizona, he approached an old man sitting on the steps of the local store.

The peace-lovers of the world are waiting for the sunrise. Until then there is not much point in holding a new tax bill up to the light for holes.

Another safety prize winner, having driven a truck for years without mishap, says sufficient sleep is the secret. But not in the same eight hours.

Fun, Fact and Fiction

Often misused, the word "meticulous" seems to apply all right to the caption-writer who put this under a photograph: Winston Churchill (right, with cigar).

"Say," he asked, "what's the death rate around here?" "Same as it is back east, brother," replied the old fellow, "one to a person."

The Packsack

OF GREGORY CLARK

IN a new book on Frederic Chopin, "The Life and Death of Chopin" by Casimir Wierzyński, there is one blazing diamond of a phrase. It is from a letter Chopin wrote to one of his many loves, and he is referring to an earlier love, George Sand, the great French woman novelist, and her son.

"But there too," he wrote, "they suffer, and they suffer all the more because they are probably ageing in anger."

Chopin apparently thought in words as magically as he thought in music. Ageing in anger is one of those critical phrases that, if it were widely known, would undoubtedly affect a great many lives. Some of the unhappiest souls on earth are those who are ageing in anger.

Ageing in malice, or in spite, or with a grudge, are familiar enough experiences among us all. Part of the slowing-up process of the body and mind seems to involve hanging onto the hotter and perhaps more exciting emotions. Our glands are the first of our gadgets to wear out. Possibly a sense of vitality surges through us when, growing old, we give way to an er or spite, so stirring up the glands which are automatically roused by those emotions. It is the cocktail of senility.

In a family, there is experienced a great variety of love, the love of lovers, the anxious and breathless love for small children, the hearty and quarrelsome love among a growing family, the anguished love for the ill and misfortunate. But there is no love that lingers so long in memory, that becomes a tradition and a heritage to compare with the love for a man or a woman who ages in tranquillity, and whose life closes with the effect of the end of a Chopin nocturne.

Nagging

LONDON. (NANA - Remews) — What constitutes nagging? When does nagging entitle a man to a divorce?

These were questions which three lords justices argued over and disagreed over in the British Court of Appeal. They were discussing a judge's decision to grant a divorce to a husband whose chief complaint was that his wife's nagging was cruel.

Lords Justices Denning and Hodson thought the judge was wrong, but Lord Justice Somervell agreed with him. The wife's appeal against the decree accordingly was allowed.

Said Lord Justice Denning: "It would be a dangerous thing for marriage if a wife could be divorced simply because she frequently complained of her husband's misdoings."

"If a husband behaves badly, he cannot expect his wife to remain silent. The remedy for him is to mend his ways, and to remove the causes for complaint."

"The more loving the wife is, the more jealous she will be, because she will feel herself in danger of losing all that she lives for."

"Reproaches are not cruelty unless they are carried on so unreasonably and long as to be wholly out of proportion to the occasion."

Lord Justice Hodson: "In all cases where what is called nagging has to be considered, it is important to examine how the complaints which are described as nagging arose—for it is an easy accusation to make, especially for a man against a woman, and a difficult one to refute."

"The conduct complained of must be such as can fairly be described as cruelty. Otherwise, the court might be asked to find cruelty when mere domestic unhappiness had brought about a deterioration in the health of one or other of the partners."

Lord Justice Somervell, disagreeing, said that the lower court judge had said that in the latter part of her married life the wife enjoyed hurting her husband.

"I do not think," said the judge, "that this is a case in which this court should interfere" (with the decision of the lower court).

"Valiant-for-Truth"

Who would true valour see,
Let him come hither;
One here will constant be,
Come wind, come weather,
There's no discouragement,
Shall make him once relent
His first avowed intent,
To be a pilgrim.

Whoso best him round
With dismal stories,
Do but themselves confound,
His strength the more is.
No lion can him fright,
He'll wish a giant fight,
To be a pilgrim.

Hobgoblin, nor foul fiend,
Can daunt his spirit;
He knows, he at the end
Shall life inherit.
Then fancies fly away,
He'll fear not what men say,
He'll labour night and day,
To be a pilgrim.

Percy Scurrah Third Alderman Planning to Seek Re-Election

Four candidates are now definitely in the running for seven city council seats, three of them present aldermen.

Alderman Percy Scurrah is the third alderman whose term expires this year to announce his candidacy for a council position.

"There are a lot of problems coming up in the next two years for which my past two years experience should prove valuable," said Ald. Scurrah in announcing his intention to run.

"He said it was 'difficult for a man to be in the city council for two years and then to be out of it for two years."

Experience is going to be worth a lot to the city council during the next two years.

TWO OTHERS

The other two aldermen who will seek re-election are Ald. Waldo Skillings and Ald. William P. Atford.

Fred E. Norris Running For New Oak Bay Term

Fred E. Norris, Oak Bay councillor for the past two years, will seek re-election next month.

Mr. Norris, 2086 Granville, is the first Oak Bay councillor whose term expires this year to announce re-election plans.

George Murdoch said he has yet to make a decision and added that he would first like to talk

New Home Destroyed By Blaze

Fire destroyed the new $3,000 home of Mr. and Mrs. John Dart on the isolated west side of Florence Lake Sunday.

Mr. Dart and his seven-month-old son were together in the house when the fire was started by an upset oil lamp. Mrs. Dart had left home earlier in the day to visit friends.

Langford firemen rushed out to fight the fire but because of the narrowness of the trail were unable to get their equipment close enough to stop the blaze.

Although the house is out of the Langford fire district, Chief Rodney Bayles of the Langford Fire Department gave what aid he could.

Mrs. Dart had not returned when her husband and their small son left the scene of the loss to spend the night at the home of friends.

The house was partially covered by insurance.

Why DISPRIN? Because DISPRIN is soluble and substantially neutral. When taken in water as recommended, it enters the stomach as a true solution and not as undissolved particles. It is therefore less liable to cause stomach discomfort.

DISPRIN is readily absorbed. Because it definitely dissolves (not merely disintegrates) DISPRIN permits speedy absorption and gives quick relief.

DISPRIN is available. Even children will take it readily.

Mob of Killer Whales Invades Brentwood Bay

A thrilling outdoor show in which between 40 and 50 killer whales played leading roles was witnessed by a number of people Sunday afternoon in the Brentwood Bay area.

Among those seeing the mammals, commonly described as blackfish, was Gordon Hardy, 11 San Jose Street, and a group of friends.

"We were working on some property overlooking Satellite Channel when we first heard the noise," he said. "There must have been between 40 and 50 of them all traveling as one big school."

"The water was very clear and very calm. We could see the blackfish under the water several seconds before they crashed through the surface."

"One of the big black brutes jumped clean out of the water... he seemed to stand on his tail, and when he hit the water again on his side I'll bet the noise could be heard half a mile away."

"The killer whales appeared in the vicinity about 2 p.m. Mr. that time the water 'seemed almost alive with dog salmon. But after the whales left we didn't see a single fish jump anywhere until many hours later."

"The whales came through Satellite Channel and went into Brentwood Bay... later we watched them leave in the direction of Genoa Bay."

Ray Sims, 2238 Shakespeare Street, another member of the work party, said he had never seen so many killer whales in one group before in his life. He is familiar with the British Columbia Coast, having spent several seasons commercial fishing.

A staunch anti-Communist labor campaigner, says an Oslo dispatch, has been awarded the Nobel Peace Prize for 1951. He is 72-year-old Leon Jouhaux of France, who has been credited with saving the French labor movement from being subverted by Communist leadership.

On the international front, Jouhaux has championed the movement for a United States of Europe and has always preached for world peace in speeches to his labor followers.

What They're Doing

At the United Nations General Assembly meeting in Paris, the U.S. is reported ready to "accept the old Russian challenge for a world-wide arms count. British, French and Canadian support was indicated for the U.S. move, but most delegates were not hopeful of an atomic agreement.

In London Clement Attlee, defeated Socialist prime minister, last night received the Order of Merit, one of Britain's most coveted decorations, from King George. Founded in 1902, the order has a limited membership of 24, save for foreign honorary members.

What They're Saying

A New York report says President Truman and two of his top controls officials have, in effect, asked the C.I.O. to put the brakes on wage demands during the present emergency. One of the major strikes facing the U.S., Truman said, is to get high defense production without bringing on renewed inflation.

A U.S. magazine in New York says that Dutch Schultz, prohibition-era beer baron, was killed by mobsters in 1935 to prevent him from assassinating Thomas E. Dewey — then a racket-breaking special prosecutor, and now governor of New York State.

Health Minister Paul Martin says at Pembroke, Ont., that the fact-finding phase of a country-wide sickness survey, started last fall, has been completed. A great mass of information, he adds, is now being tabulated and analyzed.

People in the News

In the bustle of a busy day of conferences in Washington, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower found time to spend 50 minutes in a dentist's chair. He came out smiling.

In Tokyo Premier Shigeru Yoshida has spurned the first post-war invitation to attend a social function at the Soviet Mission residence in the Japanese capital.

U.S. Admiral William M. Fechteler has failed in London in his attempt to budge Prime Minister Winston Churchill from his insistence that a European be named Atlantic Pact navy commander.

From Here and There

The strike at Olympia, Wash., of 55 East Indian crewmen of the British ship Empire Wallace has ended. A long conference in the captain's quarters ended the dispute caused by the men's demands for warm clothing, fresh vegetables and overtime pay.

R.C.N. Depot Work Starts

OTTAWA, Nov. 5 (CP) — Work has started on a $6,000,000 bulk storage depot for the Royal Canadian Navy on 96 acres at Ville LaSalle in Greater Montreal West, the navy said today.

It is to supply naval ships and establishments on both coasts and for naval divisions throughout Canada.

First buildings are to be ready for use early next summer with the depot in full operation in one year.

To be built are an administration building, four storage buildings, one "flammable" store, a motor transport garage, a central heating plant and a power plant.

A combined naval and civilian staff of 500 will operate the depot.

Those who attended the Rotary vaudeville show last night paid to see a lot of very good professional acts, but an amateur almost stole the show.

You haven't lived until you've seen George J. Warren in a wrap-around kilt and jam o'shelter playing the bagpipes.

In fact, Dr. George Duck on trumpet, Capt. James Proudfoot on trombone and William Clark on whist add up to some pretty hilarious stuff, too. It was just one of the acts and it was all in fun. The audience loved every minute of it.

A clever character named Tola the Clown showed what a sense of balance and a sense of humor can achieve when combined.

A fellow named Don George and Co. put a little new life into a very old form of entertainment. A neat set of new tricks made his puppet show refreshing and original.

It was George West and Maza who worked the miracles with Warren and the other local Rotarians.

His act entitled "Fun With Music" was just that. No one blew a note (it was all recorded) but everyone had fun pretending.

No vaudeville show is complete without a magician. A gent named Desmond injected a little humor into an act which made several familiar routines just a little different.

A song duo, Warner and Leigh and a dance team, the Burns Twins and Evelyn rounded out the program with a fast-moving

Employers Ask Strike Curbs

VANCOUVER, Nov. 5 (CP).—A curb on the strike privileges of unions was asked by representatives of British Columbia employers today at hearings of the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act inquiry board.

A brief, presented by the Industrial Association of B.C., representing 18 employer groups, asked that no union be allowed to strike unless a majority of all workers in the bargaining unit votes for strike action.

It also contended that unions should not be allowed to hold the strike weapon over the heads of employers for an indefinite time. W. L. Macken, chairman of the Industrial Association, said trade unions regard conciliation under the I.C.A. Act as a matter of formality.

Seven Cases Net Court $185

DUNCAN, Nov. 5.—Seven cases before Magistrate G. A. Tisdall in police court Monday resulted in fines totaling $185 plus costs of about $30. Edwin Richardson was fined $75 and costs or two months, his second offence, for supplying liquor to Indians. He told the court it was "more out of friendship than for gain that he sold them liquor."

John F. Bell, charged with driving a motor vehicle while his ability to do so was impaired by alcohol, was fined $30 and costs or two months. Roderick George and Herbie Johnny, Cowichan Indians, were fined $20 and costs for being intoxicated, and Benny George was fined $10 and costs or 10 days for unlawful possession of liquor.

Robert William MacDonald, 18, found "in a severe state of intoxication on 'Zouhalem' road" was fined $10 and costs.

Supervisors Learning How to Teach

"How to teach" is the keynote of a course of instruction now being presented to nursing supervisors at the Royal Jubilee Hospital.

At the request of the hospital, members of the staff of the Provincial Normal School are providing this refresher course in teaching methods for those nurses who are responsible for training students.

H. O. English, principal of the Victoria Normal School, opened the course with a discussion on the broad principles of teaching. This was followed by an interpretation of the psychology of teaching and its application in the classroom by H. C. Gilliland.

In future lectures, G. A. Brand will discuss scientific methods and visual aids in a teaching program. F. H. Johnson will consider the use of books and study materials, and H. E. Farquhar will discuss methods which would be applicable for measuring progress in the hospital teaching programs.

Some 35 members of the staff are attending these lectures. This group includes those nurses who are taking their post-graduate training in surgical techniques since they will expect to have teaching responsibility in their future positions.

B.C. Oils Brightest Spot In Dull, Uncertain Market

NEW YORK, Nov. 5 (AP).—The stock market clung to higher ground today just by the tips of its fingers.

Most of the price changes either way were in fractions.

The New York Stock and Curb Exchange are closed tomorrow for election day and at least some of the lethargy was due to this.

Volume was only 1,120,000 shares, the lowest full session since the 1,080,000 shares of August 27.

At the session's close, held prices mixed and with no trend. Industrials opened slightly lower.

Some support was evident in early afternoon dealings at Montreal and stock prices rallied slightly near the close on both stock exchanges and curb market.

Prices of oils and base metals were generally steady on the Vancouver Stock Exchange. In oils, marked gains were shown by Pacific Petroleum and Canadian Atlantic.

Winnipeg grain prices closed irregularly after showing a firm trend throughout most of the moderately active session.

New seasonal highs were reached in early part of the session in December and May oats, all months of barley, December and May flax and December rye. However, these were not held.

No export loadings of Canadian wheat were reported.

Class Two wheat prices advanced 1 1/2 cents, while L.W.A. prices moved up 1 cent.

The Chicago board of trade and other markets in that city will remain open, as will grain exchanges in other middle-west cities.

Livestock reports will be issued as usual by the department of agriculture.

B.C. Oil Laws Set for Boom

By T. A. MYERS

British Columbia's oil legislation, which until now has been just words on paper, is all set to deal with what may be the province's first oil boom.

Last week's strike at Fort St. John has focused public attention on B.C. oil prospects. But the government has had the situation under control for a long time.

B.C.'s petroleum laws have been revised four times in the last four years to prevent exploitation of natural resources by oil companies and to give the average B.C. citizen a fair chunk of oil revenues.

The way the law stands now, the government gives oil operators a strong helping hand—up to the moment they hit the pay zone. Then the government holds out the other hand to be filled with gold.

When an operator decides to go oil hunting, he must first take out an exploration permit. This may cover anything from 320 to 256,000 acres, and costs him $20.

During the first year, he pays the government five cents an acre in rent, with a minimum rental of $500. The operator may get a refund if he can prove he has spent five cents an acre in geologists' fees.

The second year, the operator pays 10 cents an acre on whatever part of the land he decides to keep. The third year, rent is 20 cents an acre. The permit is only good for three years, but the operator can get two six-month extensions at 20 cents an acre each.

LICENSE FIRST
If the operator finds a likely spot, he must buy a license before he can drill. The license covers from two to nine square miles, and an operator may hold up to eight licenses. The rental under licenses is 25 cents an acre.

When an operator finally hits oil, he and the government play a gigantic game of "tic-tac-toe" using whole sections of land for squares. The operator takes a least on one section, the government claims the next as crown reserve land. This game goes on until the operator's entire lease area is covered.

As soon as the operator begins to produce oil, the government steps in for its share. Royalties to the government total 12 1/2 per cent of the value of all oil produced. The royalty on natural gas is 15 per cent.

With what may be a real oil boom in the offing, British Columbians are bound to compare their new situation with Alberta's.

Until the size of the Fort St. John area is established, exact comparisons are impossible.

Last year Alberta raked in $27,000,000 in royalties and another $32,000,000 from the sale of Crown reserve lands.

Government officials don't think B.C. will be quite so fortunate.

PROSPECTS RESTRICTED
"In Alberta, the entire province is prospective oil land," says Dr. Here in B.C. the areas which might possibly bear oil are restricted.

B.C.'s biggest and best prospect is the Peace River district, a vast chunk of land covering the whole northeastern tip of the province. There is a small section in the southeast corner which is now being explored. Other areas are in the Queen Charlotte and on the lower mainland.

The provincial government gave B.C. a whole new oil deal in 1947, when it completely revised the oil act of 1936. The act has since been amended three times.

Dr. Williams says the B.C. legislation is as modern as any.

Alberta's oil laws are often pointed out as model legislation.

London Market Still Uncertain

LONDON, Nov. 5 (AP).—A mild rally in British industrial stocks eased the gloom of the London stock market today after five losing days in a row.

British government bonds scored small gains during the morning, but shed them later and closed dull. Oil shares were mixed. Mining issues weakened on disarmament talk from the U.N. General Assembly in Paris.

In general uncertainty prevailed on the stock exchange at the start of what promises to be a momentous week in home and overseas affairs.

With a peace offensive again claiming press headlines and the British government preparing medicine for Britain's ills, stock market men showed caution and confined their activities to routine business.

Truck Loggers Advocate Board to Control Forests

Establishment of a forest board, under the minister responsible for administration of the forests of British Columbia, is urged by J. W. Balkie, president of the Truck Loggers' Association.

"This forest board," he said, "would be patterned after the forest commission recommended six years ago by Chief Justice Gordon McG. Sloan in his inquiry into the forest resources of British Columbia."

The Sloan report recommended such a commission because of the long-range planning required to change over from our present system of forest liquidation and depletion to one of sustained yield management.

"We must," the report states, "project our perspective over the long periods it takes to grow and harvest forest crops. Our forest problem cannot be met and solved effectively by this form of administration."

"The Truck Loggers' Association," Balkie stated, "is of the opinion that realistic forest management and administration in British Columbia can only be achieved by replacing present individual direction by group leadership."

The truck loggers' ninth annual convention is scheduled for Jan. 16, 17 and 18.

Because of its fine climate Tanager in Morocco has long been recognized as a health resort.

Five-Day Week Mistake Asserts Advertising Man

The five-day working week was the greatest mistake our civilization ever made, Harry Penman, head of a city advertising firm, told the Gyro Club yesterday.

"There is only one cure for all of our economic problems, and that is to work and more work," he said. Such a cure, he claimed, would do more than anything else toward abolition of present inflationary conditions.

Quoting from the Bible, he said that man was directed to work six days a week and rest on the seventh.

His talk was entitled "Advertising" and based on 40 years' experience in that business. "It's a big and important factor in modern business, and becoming more complex every day," he stated.

There was a right way and a wrong way to advertise, the speaker emphasized. He dubbed the Chinese were the first to monopolize the island of Ceylon when 10,000 refugees from the Manchus went there three centuries ago.

Started Each Day Feeling Tired, Upset; Nervous Too
—now years drop away for Brantford woman who feels like young girl, when Sarnak relieves long-standing kidney condition, stomach upsets and that always-tired feeling.
What a joy it is to waken with that "glad to be alive" feeling—instead of feeling so weary, dragged out and discouraged you lose interest in life!
Mrs. H. Holmes, 59 Colborne St., Brantford, Ontario, is one of the lucky ones who has had that happy experience. She writes:
"For several years I haven't felt well. Even before I started the day I was always so tired and nervous—I never cared to go out and didn't take much interest in life.
"I suffered a lot from a dull ache in the back of my neck which sometimes lasted three days; could not eat a meal without bloating and having shortness of breath; and was very irregular as well.
"Nothing I took seemed much help until I tried Sarnak. By the time I had taken my first bottle of Sarnak, I began to feel like a girl again, relieved of stomach upsets and that tired-out feeling. Sarnak also relieved a kidney condition I had suffered with for a long time."
No wonder I am thankful for all Sarnak has been able to do for me!
Mrs. Holmes' case bears out the reports from hundreds who have tried Sarnak, and who have found relief within three weeks. You see, Sarnak starts its effective relief from the moment you take the first dose. It acts fast because it's in liquid form, no tablets or pills to dissolve in the stomach.
So don't suffer a moment longer than necessary. Get Sarnak to-day.

Rangers Champs in Maple Leaf Gardens

New York Rangers may be on bottom of National Hockey League standings but to Toronto fans they rate top position. Broadwayites, who have won only three games this season, defeated Maple Leafs for second straight time on Toronto ice on Saturday, clinching tenacious man-to-man hockey that broke up Toronto passing plays consistently and force Leafs to shoot hurriedly. Rangers stick-checked with authority and were backed by solid defence. Above, Ranger goalie Chuck Rayner is seen lying prone on ice after clearing puck fired by Leafs' Ted Kennedy, centre. Others in action around net are: Reg Sinclair (checking Kennedy), and rookies Hy Buller (background) and Wally Kergesheimer (right), all of Rangers.

Sarazen Urges Empire Team for U.K. As Americans Easily Keep Ryder Cup

PINEBURST, N.C., Nov. 5 (AP)—Gene Sarazen, who has played in more Ryder Cup matches and won more points than any man, said today Britain would never retrieve the international golf trophy until she became realistic and fields an Empire team.

"They call men up from their dominions to fight and die in their wars," said the square-jawed Germantown, N.Y., country squire. "It seems foolish that they should bar them from their sports teams."

"I feel sure a Ryder Cup squad picked from Australia, South Africa and Canada, as well as Britain, could give the United States quite a go of it."

The Americans retained the trophy here Sunday by humbling the British team, 9½ points to 2½. Britain, which restricts its team membership to natives of the Isles, has won only twice since 1927 and has not beaten the United States since 1933.

"It is ridiculous to believe that the British Isles, with its some 56,000,000 population, can ever match our country, with its 150,000,000 and its year-around tournament schedule," the veteran little professional asserted.

NOT PRACTICABLE

Arthur Lahey, crosby captain of the 1951 British squad and himself one of the country's great players in his day, said Sarazen's suggestion was "idealistic but impracticable."

"How would we select and finance a team on such a broad scale?" he asked. "What sort of eliminations would we hold to arrive at a representative team?"

And who would pay for bringing the men from all parts of the earth for the meeting every two years?

Sarazen, in launching his suggestion, said the Britons could have given the Americans a real workout this year, with such men as Bobby Locke of South Africa, Peter Thompson and Norman Van Nida of Australia and Stan Leonard of Canada, a Vancouver pro.

The Americans won six of eight singles matches Sunday. Captain Sam Snead touched off the winning spark with a flurry of birdies and pars and his tournament-tested mates quickly fell in line with some strong play

Speaking Briefly

Hugh Currie, who has played only two games with Vancouver Canucks, has been named team captain.

Top-weighted Delta won the two-mile Melbourne Cup, Australia's richest horse race, yesterday.

Undeclared heavyweight contender Bob Baker pounded out a ten-round decision over Jimmy Bivins at Pittsburgh last night for his 25th consecutive victory.

Buffalo Bills of the American Hockey League have acquired defenseman Sam Lavitt from Cleveland Barons of the same league.

Middleweight contender Walter Cartier scored his 20th straight victory with a fifth-round knockout over Joe Arthur at Boston last night.

Counterpoint, strong candidate for "horse-of-the-year" honors, has been sidelined for the rest of the year by a crack in a front hoof.

Coast Puck Teams Just Break Even With Prairie Clubs

for Tacoma Friday and to Seattle the following Sunday.

seven of them away from home, and about 3,000 miles of travel in between. The trip should prove whether or not the club as constituted can continue to hold its own or not.

NO CHANGES

Cougars will open their rugged schedule at Vancouver tonight against the still winless Canucks. Coach Roger Lezer is planning no line-up changes.

Eddie Dorobay will pivot Bob Frampton and Andy Hebertson with Doug Anderson working between Joe Evans and Joe Melvin.

Jack McElroy will centre Bob Howes and either Fred Hildebrand or Leon Bouchard.

Ernie Roche will partner Lezer and Bernie Stronman will team with Port Goetz on the defensive combinations in front of goalie Jim Shirley.

Although there was no news of player reinforcements, there was a note of cheer in the announcement that Reg Abbott might be sidelined far less than three weeks.

HEMP-RLING BACK

Further examination of his injured shoulder disclosed only a partial separation and the physician believes he may be able to play in about two weeks. He will wear a cast for about ten days.

Elsewhere around the circuit, Tony Hemmings, left winger, added and is still the Seattle coach. Hemmings announced he was quitting after a few days with Miss Patricia, Saturday, claiming he didn't want any part of a league which obstructed the likes of the Tacoma club.

Patrick, who reportedly is wearing a shiner, didn't miss the chance to make the most of the situation. He went out for a new coat to Frank Dutton, Seattle owner, claiming he had had a sleeve off while retreating when Hemmings resorted to physical action.

Hemmings is probably feeling better today. His opponent, downed Stamper, 12, in Sunday's only game to move into a first place with the Rockets.

For once, there was little coming from the camp of the Canucks, who have been coming close of late. The only news was a report that Harry Groves, who started the season with Calgary, had refused to report to the Canucks.

SEATTLE CALGARY

Calgary, who played five games in eight nights ending last Saturday, also play four games, including three on their first jaunt to the prairie waste lands.

Cougars, who have games in hand on every club but Edmonton, get no respite next week. They move from New Westminster Saturday to Calgary on Monday. It's Edmonton Tuesday, Saskatoon Wednesday, back home Trail, 8-3 tonight. The victory was the seventh in eight starts for the league leading smokes.

Bob Weist paced Trail with three goals.

EAGLES PRACTICE

Eagles third division soccer team will hold a practice at Beacon Hill tomorrow at 6:00 p.m. All players are asked to attend.

Drake's Johnny Bright, all-time offense leader, had his broken jaw reinjured on Saturday and has played his last football game.

Player Moves Ordered To Boost Civil Servants

Officials of the Commercial Hockey League met Sunday in an attempt to settle player disputes and strengthen the Civil Service team.

The player debate started when Cliff Coulter and Steve Harris were unable to obtain releases from Civil Service in order to play with Victoria Merchants. The players appealed to the B.C. Amateur Hockey Association, which ruled them the property of Merchants.

Civil Service appealed the decision on the grounds that Merchants were building a packed team.

Sunday, Jim Lackie, manager of Merchants and return Harris to the Servants on the recommendation of league president Duke Keats.

Individuals were also asked to turn over 130 Norbury and Ben Elmer and Capitals were asked to give up Phil Andrejko to further strengthen the Servants.

Mike Leachman, manager of Andrejko, claiming he had nothing back of the blue line. He said he had already turned over one forward to the Army and had lost the services of Bert Yessow, ruled ineligible by the non-resident rule.

Tax Sale Property Brings City $4,215

AROUND TOWN

The city clerk's office did a rush business yesterday in Ross Bay Cemetery grave lots.

Of a total number of 66 released for sale, 18 were purchased for a total of about $4,215.

City clerk M. F. Hunter said one section was sold out except for one plot.

The lots had been reserved for 25 years owing to an earlier misunderstanding over ownership of certain sections.

Average cost of the lots was $25. Most of the remaining 47 are still available at that price although there are a small number of $100 sites also for sale.

Charles Hunter, a local architect, has been asked to prepare plans for a new building on the site.

On November 19, 1994, the Journal of the American Medical Association published a study by the National Cancer Institute (NCI) that showed that the use of tamoxifen in the treatment of breast cancer was associated with a 50% reduction in the risk of developing a second breast cancer.¹ The study was a retrospective analysis of data from the NCI's Breast International Group (BIG) database, which contains information on the treatment and outcome of breast cancer patients from 1975 to 1990. The study found that patients who received tamoxifen as part of their treatment had a significantly lower risk of developing a second breast cancer compared to those who did not receive tamoxifen. This finding was significant because it suggested that tamoxifen might have a protective effect against the development of a second breast cancer, which is a common complication of breast cancer treatment.

Getting Ready For Holy War

Ardent Moslem nationalists are forming a white heat Near East hatred of British and American preparation for a holy war, Professor Giovanni Costigan said last night.

Addressing a packed Victoria College extension audience, the University of Washington professor said: "It is hard to imagine the concentrated hatred that people are capable of emanating until one has visited such places as Cairo."

He blamed the feeling of hostility directed against all foreigners on the strong nationalist movement in Egypt.

Teachers in the Modern universities are working night and day to increase the anti-American, anti-British feeling that is already there, he said.

"They are slowly working towards a holy war, which, as we all know, is the worst kind of strife," he said.

Professor Costigan's topic was "Reflections on the Near East."

Plebiscite on Parks May Be Presented

A plebiscite on parks expenditures may be the lone side issue in the municipal elections Dec. 15 in Greater Victoria.

No money-by-laws are planned at present, municipal clerks said yesterday.

The lone plebiscite may be presented in Saanich, asking whether taxpayers wish to apply one-half mill for parks improvement, said municipal clerk John Tribe. About $3,500 is expended annually on parks improvement. Approval of the added half-mill would mean about $7,500 annual expenditure on parks, he added.

It is expected a final decision on whether to submit the plebiscite in December will be made by the council next week.

Social Credit League Plans All-Out Drive

In its drive to become a political power in British Columbia, the B.C. Social Credit League has boosted its membership by 2,000 in the past seven months, the League convention was told at the Westminster over the weekend.

The league is determined to contest every riding in the province at the next election. Provincial President Lyle Wicks declared:

"We will fight for the government at the next election and we will not just be taken candidates."

The convention was devoted to administrative and organizational matters. Delegates instructed the executive to consider the political situation and call a second convention as soon as possible to choose a political leader for the League in British Columbia.

Differential Beneficial, Board Told

VANCOUVER, Nov. 5 (C.P.)—A U.S. expert told the B.C. Milk Board today a store differential of two to four cents would lower home-delivered prices and not harm producers.

Dr. Roland W. Bartlett, University of Illinois economics professor, appearing on behalf of Canada Safeway Limited, cited conditions at Washington, D.C., in support of his stand.

Canada Safeway is seeking the right to sell milk through its stores at prices from two to three cents less than home delivered.

Dr. Bartlett testified under examination and cross-examination that when the store differential was allowed in Washington, distributors reduced their costs and were able to effect a retail price cut.

The U.S. professor said that where the store differential was allowed, prices were fixed at the producer level to protect the producer.

Canada Safeway's argument at the milk board hearings has been that price curbs be abandoned above the producer level so that producers will be protected and prices be allowed free rise.

The company argues that such a plan would encourage the development of efficiency and resultant economies.

David MacFarlane expressed support of the Safeway stand by the Retail Merchants' Association. The hearing is continuing.

Friends Rally To Help Fire Victims

Many friends are rallying to aid fire-victims John Dart, his wife and small son, who were burned out of their Florence Lake Road home Sunday.

Members of the Dockyard Civil Service Association, of which Dart is a member, are sponsoring a drive for funds, bedding or clothing to help the ex-natal man.

Jack Carey, Esquimalt councillor, 305 Admirals Road, is heading the drive, and will be pleased to receive donations for the Dart family at his home. The phone number is Beacon 2301.

At present the Dart family is living with friends in Belmont subdivision, Royal Roads.

Spanish Ship Calls for Help

LONDON, Nov. 5 (Reuters)—The 2,174-ton Spanish ship, Cabo Baccardi, reported today in a radio message picked up in London that she urgently needed assistance 20 miles west of Sardinia, where she was in "a dangerous position."

Fight Planned To Stave Off Devaluation

LONDON, Nov. 5 (A.P.)—The new Conservative government laid out plans today for a national fight to stave off another devaluation of the pound.

Prime Minister Churchill after a special meeting of the cabinet was reported ready to:

Slash Britain's import program by anything up to one-fourth, touching off a new phase of austerity. Food is likely to be scarce and gasoline is likely to be rationed.

Ask all other countries of the British sterling area to slice their gold and dollar spending.

Inform the United States that substantial American help is essential if Britain is to fulfil her $4,700,000,000 arms program during the next three years.

Suspend Britain's promises to liberalize her trade with European countries.

Boost production by a target figure of about $1,200,000,000 annually or about 4 per cent of the national income—which is the extent to which Britain is spending more than she is earning.

When normal regularity is restored and maintained by the revolutionary medical discovery, Melcalose!

Here's a constipation corrective (not a laxative), that gives real assurance of positive relief! No laxative in medical history can offer proof of such action and results!

Actual medical records prove that Melcalose can restore normal regularity in as little as 7 days—even in chronic constipation cases of 20 or 30 years' duration!

Easy-to-take Melcalose tablets give gentle, corrective relief without violent purging, stomach upset or digestive disturbances of any kind—without the inconvenience of messy pills or granules, slippery oils or bitter salts.

Melcalose forms a mild non-purging gel that passes unchanged through the digestive system—mixes with the contents of the colon, where constipation actually takes place—the result—light, smooth, normal bowel movements.

Once this rhythmic activity is restored and maintained, constipation no longer exists!

MELCALOSE TABLETS ARE EASY TO TAKE!

Ordinary "laxatives" often upset entire digestive tract... Melcalose tablets go to work where constipation actually "lives"—they have remarkable soothing colon-action.

May Spring Surprise

MOSCOW, Nov. 5 (A.P.)—Foreign observers here said today the Soviet Union might spring a surprise at the new United Nations session in Paris, possibly with regard to atom control.

The observers said they are convinced the Soviets have at least one big surprise up their sleeves for the session opening tomorrow.

It may have to do with a proposal on atomic controls and the overall question of arms reduction. It may also include a spectacular peace move.

commitment about what moves the delegation might make in Paris. There is speculation in the foreign diplomatic colony in Moscow that the Soviet delegates would try to seize the initiative in Paris on one or more of a number of pressing international sore points—Formosa, San Francisco, the Japanese treaty, Korea, Italian peace treaty revision or some such item.

With Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky heading the Paris delegation, there is every likelihood of fireworks. For one thing, he is likely to lash out at the Western Powers for trying to link Mediterranean countries to the Atlantic Alliance and for moving to integrate Germany in the Western arms plans.
